Council backs Military Cross campaign

Northampton Borough Council has formally backed the campaign for Walter Tull to be posthumously awarded the Military Cross.

A motion was carried at Monday night's full council meeting at the Guildhall in support of the campaign for Mr Tull, the first black officer in the British Army and a former Northampton Town footballer.

Mr Tull was killed in action during the First World War but never received the Military Cross he was recommended for at the time. Council leader, Councillor David Mackintosh (Con, Rectory Farm) has written to the Secretary of State for Defence on the issue.

Councillor Mackintosh told the meeting he had discovered a personal connection to Mr Tull, as his great, great uncle died three days before him, a few miles away, on the same offensive in France.

Mr Tull has a memorial outside Sixfields and a road named after him by the ground, but his other professional club, Tottenham Hotspur, has never formally recognised him.

The motion said: "This council recognises the outstanding contribution made by Walter Tull, both in the service of our country and in breaking down racial barriers as a sportsman and a soldier.

"Walter Tull served with distinction during the First World War, seeing action at the Battle of the Somme in 1916, and gaining a mention in Despatches for his 'gallantry and coolness' during his time fighting in Italy.

"As the first black officer in the British Army he has come to be seen as an important historical role model. Walter Tull was killed in action before the end of the war, and was unfortunately never awarded the Military Cross for which he was recommended.

"Walter Tull made 111 appearances for Northampton Town Football Club between 1911-1914, and is a figure of national importance with whom Northampton is proudly associated.

"The year 2014 marks the 100th anniversary of the outbreak of the First World War, and 2013 is the 125th anniversary of Walter Tull's birth. This council adds its support to the campaign for Walter Tull to be posthumously awarded the Military Cross."

A Disney dream come true

A Disney-mad family and their friends are the winners of a nationwide search to be named as the world's first Walt Disney World Family.

The Frith family, from Northampton, came out on top in a competition boasting 780 entries, and will now enjoy a three-week VIP stay at the Walt Disney World Resort in Florida next year.

And once they return, they will appear in the official Walt Disney World Parks brochure, on its blog, and will become regular contributors to the Walt Disney World Facebook and Twitter pages.

The winning 'family' could be made up of a number of different people, including immediate or distant relatives, friends, colleagues or even neighbours.

So the Friths also included their family friends and partners in the 10, who will now join them on the trip.

They said it has always been a dream of theirs to all go to Walt Disney World together.

The full list of winners are Paul Frith, aged 53, wife Anita, aged 46, and their children, Jade and James, both aged 25, of Westone Avenue, Westone, Northampton; family friends Richard Parris, aged 41, his wife Karen, aged 39, and their children, Leah, aged 11, and Lana, aged six, of Burford Way, Wellingborough; Jade's girlfriend, Ashleigh Sewell, aged 18, of Constable Drive, Wellingborough, and Jade's partner, Alice Bailey, aged 25, also of Westone Avenue, Northampton.

Jade, who entered the competition on the family's behalf, said: "I saw it on Facebook when it popped up as I always check out all things Disney."

"We call ourselves the Disney family. I just thought it was made for us, it was fate. We have always wanted to go together. It is like a dream. I feel like we've won the lottery. It is a bit surreal."

The family's home is adorned with Disney picture frames, plates, cups, ornaments and soft toys.

And now it also boasts a topiary Mickey Mouse sculpture in the garden as part of the prize.

Paul said: "When you look at all the families who entered you think you are never going to win it. Even to get in the top five is an accolade."

Anita said: "We didn't think for one second we would win because it is such an incredible prize. I couldn't believe this could come true."

"We have been best friends for 23 years. This is better than winning the lottery."

Karen said: "The fact that we can all go together as two families and enjoy it all together is a fantastic opportunity."

Leah said: "I'm looking forward to the rides and seeing the characters like Mickey Mouse. I like the shows as well."

Solutions Not Problems

Town could get Palestinian twin

A blossoming friendship with a town on the Palestinian West Bank could lead to Northampton having a new twin.

A group was formed in May with the intention of twinning Northampton with Al-Bireh, a large town on the Palestinian West Bank, to raise awareness of the problems suffered by its people.

And members of the Northampton Al-Bireh (Palestine) Friendship Association visited the town last month to look at potential links.

Julia Bush, who was one of the visitors to Al-Bireh, said: "It started with individual people and gradually more people came on board. We visited a school, library, football club and the municipal offices.

"All town twinings start off informally. We see it as a people to people thing. That is the most important thing, to give a sense of support and friendship.

"We know town twinning is popular and we just thought, why not outside of Europe?"

Olympian's thanks to surgeon

Olympic champion Greg Rutherford has thanked a Northampton-based surgeon for helping him to keep jumping.

The London 2012 long-jump gold medalist was in the town to open a combined medical centre in Billing Road.

The centre is made up of the physiotherapist practice Witty, Pask and Buckingham, and the new County Clinic, which is expert in, among other things, sports medicine and is led by Mr Rutherford's surgeon, Professor Bill Ribbens. Mr Rutherford said: "I know Bill very well as he's performed three surgeries on my foot, which have all been successful, the last one being six weeks ago.

"Without them I wouldn't have been able to keep jumping.

"For someone like myself it's been hugely important."

The new venture will see world-renowned physiotherapists, podiatrists, consultants and surgeons under one roof.

Witty Pask and Buckingham director, Mark Buckingham, was a Team GB physio at the Sydney and Athens Olympics and continues to work as a physio with UK Athletics.

Pushy Salesmen? Not With Cloudy2Clear!

Cloudy2Clear Windows, the Northampton based window repair company, are revolutionising how homeowners view double glazing in our area. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as customers take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Trevor Skidmore, is convinced that much of his success is down to the fact that he employs tradesmen, not salesmen. 'If you think about it, who wants to deal with the dreaded double glazing salesman?

The thought of going through the whole tedious process of haggling with someone who arrives at 7 at night and then camps themselves in your house until midnight is not one most people find attractive. A lot of our customers are elderly and can feel very pressurised by sales tactics. We set out from day one to be very different.'

Trevor makes very sure his customers are looked after right from the first time Cloudy2Clear arrive at the house. 'All our staff arrive in uniforms so the customer knows who they are and I insist that they wear plastic overshoes to protect the customers carpets. We then measure the windows that have a problem and price the job up there and then, which usually takes around 15 minutes. If the customer wants the job doing we'll arrange installation but if they want to call us back later that's fine. What I don't want to hear from any of my customers is that they felt pushed into anything. It's just not our style.

We're trying to give the glazing industry a reputable face and the evidence of my order book tells me my customers like our approach.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Trevor a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be more than happy to help!

New gallery gets grant

A new Northampton art gallery has been awarded a £65,000 grant to help it officially open its doors to the public.

NN, the new Fishmarket art gallery, based at number nine Guildhall Road, Northampton, will host a launch event on Thursday, December 13, from 6pm.

NN received its grant from the Arts Council England at the end of last week and the funds will allow the gallery to run a year-long programme of events, starting at the launch night.

Artistic director, Catherine Hemelryk, said: "It's amazing to have got the grant. We're so happy. It will allow us to start our programme of events, which will include talks, performances and screenings."

"It will also allow us to fund research into our sustainability and also the potential future of the new building."

The Fishmarket moved to the new building after it was announced earlier this year that its former premises near the Market Square would be demolished to make room for a new bus station.

Development works on the new premises are still under-going and Ms Hemelryk said: "We want to make sure we use the space we have. We are working on the ground floor first."

The launch event will also see the start of NN's first exhibition, Guest and Hosts, which will include work from local artists Jessica Harby, Darren Banks and James Smith and Ben Rivers and Hayley Lock, both from the UK, and Flora Whiteley from Berlin.

Catherine Hemelryk and Laura Hogan in the the courtyard area of the Fishmarket with plants donated by Barclaycard and flower beds for Hareleston Firs.
